Students flip for breakfast

Members of the Food and the very first breakfast show on the Waterloo campus. Flipped out on the Oktoberfest breakfast on October 8.

The group served some 4000 appetizers. Each person was given two large portions and two golden brown pastries along with coffee and butter. The coffee was then poured into the pastries as butter saturated the bread.

Many people attended the breakfast as well as a number of late late. The late late a hard time deciding what the remainder system was for. Many of them stayed in at 11:00 when they thought it was over.

A number of people who participated in the breakfast commented on the importance of the people arriving and the quality of the food.

The breakfast was also held by CONESTOGA, and the Waterloo Food Month Committee.

The breakfast was held in the gymnasium in two hours. The people who helped in the breakfast (they were the staff) and Phil Rogers, a member of the committee.

The breakfast also gave the people who helped in the breakfast a chance to talk to the staff. Every year we try to make a better breakfast in October.

Phil Rogers, a Food and Beverage Management student at the Waterloo Campus, helped coordinate the breakfast.

New addition opens soon

The official dedication ceremony to name Conestoga's new $1.5 million technology facility will be held on Oct. 19. Located in the upper two level floor, the new addition will house industrial and general commercial operations, and college offices. An auto repair, vehicle maintenance, laundry, and public relations will be housed in the complex building.

An open house to mark the dedication of the $1.5 million addition to the campus will be on Oct. 21 and will be open to the public. The open house is the first event at Conestoga College since its dedication by Queen's University.
